

REFLEXOLOGY

Need to relax before your dental appointment? We understand and can help with stress - relieving reflexology.

Reflexology is the act of applying pressure to areas on the hands, feet, and ears to alleviate stress. In recent years, many dentists, physical therapists, massage therapists, and chiropractors have started offering reflexology to help relax patients before treatments. Here at Plymouth Meeting Dental Associates, our main focus is to provide our patients with superior dental care in a calm, pleasant environment. That is why, for a reasonable fee, you have the opportunity to enjoy our soothing and relaxing reflexology treatments before your dental procedure. Our reflexology treatments are one of the many reasons why our patients love going to the dentist!
